Black Magic Metered Glow Starter

Black Magic has recently reinvented the glow starter. With so many choices in the glow starter market, it has become quite difficult to find the best one for your application. Until now, you had to make a choice when selecting a glow starter for your pit box. It was either looks, or performance. Now, with the Team Magic Metered Glow Starter you can have both style and performance in one reliable package. With it's ergonomic style and rugged construction, Team Magic has designed this glow started to stand out from the rest.

Battery Meter

The Team magic Metered Glow Starter features a high quality meter on top of the handle. Anyone who races knows how important it is to have a solid battery when you go to start your engine for the Main. The meter is made with strong materials, so your pit crew doesn't have to worry about poor battery readings after a few starts.

Removable Body

The Team magic Metered Glow Starter features an all aluminium body for durability. It is also easily removed for fast battery removal. Any Sub-C cell battery will fit inside it's anodized handle. This just might be the last glow starter you will ever need to buy.

Comfortable design

This glow starter features a cool nylon finger stay so you can easily squeeze it's spring loaded socket. The ergonomic design both feels great in your hands and looks awesome. The knurled meter cap make removing the battery easier than other starters with smooth caps.
